ATION

The 1961 Yoncopin Staff is proud to dedicate this year's book to a man who has merited the respect, the admiration and the sincere gratitude of the students of Centenary and his college associates—

DR. LEROY VOGEL,
DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

FOREWORD

LOOKING BACKWARD — AND FORWARD

1961 marks the 100th Anniversary of the Civil War, or War Between the States, as some seem to prefer to call it.

There are two ways in which this gigantic struggle may be viewed from the perspective of 1961. We may simply look backward and take sides, as our forefathers took sides, and thus become immersed again in the bitterness and hatred of sectional issues which should divide us no longer. We may make every effort not only to hold open the sores of dead issues but to pour salt in those sores. Unfortunately today there remain a few who wish to do this—a few who would question the political, social, and economic unity of the nation—a few who fail to recognize the fact that this is 1961 rather than 1861 and that the issues which engaged our forefathers in 1861 are no longer the issues of 1961. There are a few who would rattle the bones of this dead past, but there is no meat on the skeleton.

On the other hand, we can remember this struggle with thanksgiving that we survived as a united nation. How tragic it would be today if we stood before the dangers of 1961 as two nations instead of one. In this small world of 1961, when any point on our globe can be reached from any other point more quickly than one could cross the State of Louisiana in 1861, we find the major issues of 100 years ago entirely out of place.

Jesus once said, “. . . let the dead bury their own dead.” It is not bad advice for us today. We can admire the devotion and courage of our forefathers on both sides of that great conflict of the past century; but this is a new day and new issues face us. Let the sores of the past be buried.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle,
President of the College

STUDENT SENATE

As president of the student body, it is Jim Daigle's job to make announcements in Chapel every Thursday.

OFFICERS

JAMES DAIGLE	President
ANN McLAURIN	Co-Ed Vice President
RALPH MASON	Vice President
BRENDA BAILEY	Secretary
JAMES GOINS	Treasurer
JEAN NETTERVILLE	Independent Representative
G. B. WATSON	Independent Representative

The Student Senate of Centenary College is composed of thirteen members and three faculty advisors. The five major officers are elected by the entire student body. A boy and a girl are elected by the independent students to represent them. The sororities and fraternities elect a member through their joint organizations. The presidents of the four classes become a member of the Senate immediately after their election. The Senate has the power to govern, regulate, and otherwise control all student affairs and social functions as defined in the Senate Rules and subject to the general college regulations and actions by the Committee on Student Affairs. The Student Senate sponsors a "Howdy Dance" at the beginning of the Fall semester each year, directs Kangaroo Court on Freshman Day, and is responsible for the Student Fair and the Founder's Day activities in the Spring. This year's faculty advisors were Miss Ruth Alexander, Dean J. H. Allen, and Dr. Lee Morgan.

The Maroon Jackets are the official hostesses of the college. They have just completed their thirty-first year on campus. It is their job to assist during registration, Freshman Week, lyceum programs and weekly Chapel programs. For membership this organization requires a 3.0 average and two semesters of residence at Centenary previous to the semester in which new members are chosen. The members are selected for their qualities of leadership, scholarship and character. Their faculty sponsor is Helen Lineberger, Dean of Women.

MAROON JACKETS

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national service fraternity recognizing leadership in the various fields of college activities. It was installed on Centenary campus in February, 1949. The members assist the Maroon Jackets whenever possible, supervise college movies and provide coffee for the Evening Division of Centenary College. The faculty sponsors are Dr. John B. Entrikin, Mr. Wayne Hanson, Mr. Charles Hickcox, Dr. Woodrow W. Pate and Dr. Jack Teagarden.

To maintain the scholarship average, the members spend many hours in the library. Don Tyler, John Williams, and Fred Schwendimann can verify this.

CENTENARY HONOR COURT

Dr. Carlton, faculty sponsor
Fred Schwendimann, Chief Justice

The Honor Court is a board of five members and two alternates who hold office from the time of their election to the date of their graduation, unless elected to a Student Senate office. Members of the Honor Court are nominated by the students; the field is narrowed down by the faculty, and the final selection is made by the retiring court.

The function of the Honor Court is to try persons accused of violating the honor code. All trials are held in secret and no person is convicted unless proven guilty by unquestionable evidence. The faculty sponsor this year for the Honor Court is Dr. Carlton.

The members of the Court are Genevieve Compton, Alternate; Al Holland, Alternate; Linda Rosett, Clerk; Fred Schwendimann, Chief Justice; Kay Cooper and Jimmy Hughes.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council is the central governing organization for national sororities on campus. It regulates rushing, conditions of pledging at its meetings which are held twice a month. Each sorority is responsible for selecting its own representatives to serve on the Council. In the spring, a Panhellenic house party is held, and the members of each sorority are invited. Helen Lineberger, Dean of Women, is the faculty advisor for this organization.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Baptist Student Union was first organized in Texas in 1920 and became South-wide in 1921. The purpose of the Baptist Student Union at Centenary is to cultivate a student's friendship with Christ—to grow spiritually as well as intellectually. It is the connecting link between you, the student, and the local church. Activities of the Centenary Baptist Student Union include socials, mission activities, intramurals, summer mission activities, and religious life week. At Centenary the Baptist Student Center is provided for the enjoyment of all Baptist students.

CENTENARY COLLEGE BAND

Mr. B. P. Causey, Director

"Work conquers all" is a familiar saying to the approximately twenty-five members of the Centenary College Band. Under the fine direction of Mr. B. P. Causey, the Band plays for civic organizations such as the Kiwanis Club and also presents an annual outdoor fall concert. This is the first year that the College Band has actually formed a dance band and planned to play for a campus dance. Specializing in playing modern jazz and modern swing, the dance band will be eventually composed of eleven men. Therefore, the members of the entire band deserve the acclaim that they receive from the student body.

CENTENARY COLLEGE CHOIR

Dr. A. C. Voran, Director

The 1960-61 Centenary Choir is the product of seventeen years background and tradition. Though the personnel changes rapidly and adjustments are many, practices and traditions proving themselves useful have been carried from year to year with continual improvement in mind. In selecting members, "Cheesy" looks for more than musical talent. "Typical students with a wide range of extracurricular activities and a love for singing make the most congenial group," he explains.

Traveling has become an important part of the Choir's life. A mid-semester tour is scheduled throughout Louisiana every year. In addition to the two-week tour, many single trips are taken during the year, all of which spread Centenary's name in this and neighboring states. Nationally and internationally the Choir has seen many places including New York, San Francisco, Denver, Atlanta, and the Far East. Cooperation and consideration are the bywords of success for this group, sometimes called "The Singing Ambassadors."

Orlin Corey, head of the drama and speech department and new director of the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, comes to Centenary with talent, originality and experience. A graduate of Baylor, he has done advanced study in London and Paris and has been director of plays at Kentucky Mountain Theatre Association. His adaption of the Book of Job was presented at the Brussel's World Fair and he toured with it through Europe and Canada.

His talented wife, Irene Corey, is also a graduate of Baylor, majoring in art and drama. She continued her art studies in Paris under Reynold and Martha Arnould. Her one-act play "The Color Conscious Conscience" was listed as one of the 100 best one-act plays by the Saturday Review of Literature. She designs both sets and costumes for her husband's plays.

MARJORIE LYON'S PLAYHOUSE

"Although Murder in the Cathedral is created in the classical tradition of the Greek theatre, it is not strictly speaking a tragedy. Rather it is what may be called a Christian tragedy. That is it portrays a dramatic paradox—its protagonist, Becket meets death in an apparent defeat, but Becket and Christendom alike see in his martyrdom a spiritual fulfillment much more glorious than life through compromise could ever be. As Brooks Atkinson noted a few years ago, this play is 'in broad outline, an imitation of the Passion of Christ'."

"An audience finds itself on strange terrain as it watches this play. Eliot, the master of compressed understatement, has chosen to minimize the melodramatic in his play's structure. But there are compensations. The melodious lamentations of the chorus, the insolent intrusion of the tempters in the midst of Becket's private devotions, the moving simplicity of the lovely Christmas sermon, the scathing satire of the knights' trial before a jury of the audience—these are full measure of reward. Eliot has denied us our traditional theatrical treat of tension and passion, so that he may give us a new, bolder design."

"Merry Wives" was staged as a merry, wintry, Elizabethan "Our Town," transmuting all Windsor into theater. A flexible setting aids action, suggesting the hearty cheer of that age. Merchants and their wives, wearing the middle class fashions of late Tudor times—young lovers, a lawyer, a visiting mountebank—the town's preacher, doctor, teacher, inn-keeper, servants—all live lusty, English-holiday lives, separate yet related, creating the corporate personality of Windsor. This realistic comedy is unique, Shakespeare's one drama about his middle class contemporaries.

As for Falstaff, few will complain that he is not the man they expected. This jolly fraud is, as always, subversive of morality, though the laugh now goes against him. If he does not triumph in rascality, as before it is solely because Windsor is too shrewd for him. These madcap Windsor wives are unconquerable in their chastity and their cleverness. Plainly, wit is made a fool when ill-employed in Windsor-town, and wives are merry, yet honest, too.

“CRY DAWN IN DARK BABYLON”

A play about Death, Resurrection, The Church

P. W. Turner's play "Cry Dawn in Dark Babylon" was the Jongleurs' second production of the 1960-1961 season. It also launched a new service to the Ark-La-Tex in that it toured various towns within a two hundred mile radius of Shreveport playing in churches. This production was Southwest premiere of the play which is about the search for faith of a couple whose only child died. It is also a contemporary dramatic statement of the Christian faith. The members of the cast were Bob Shy, Evelyn Sandefir, George Bryan, Don Farley, Louella Bains, Jim Foster, Grace Jackson, and Ann Sherman. The technical crew was Lorine Crenshaw and David Gibson.

PRINCIPALS

"The Rivalry," Norman Corwin's taut drama of the Lincoln-Douglas debates of 1858, brought the ageless rhetoric of two masters to 1961. Time has not altered their eloquence. History has not eroded the issues. Exciting theater resulted from this marriage of politics and stage. The presentation of the play marked its premiere in Southern Colleges and universities.

Stephen Douglas and Abraham Lincoln in characteristic pose at the debates.

A girl and workman of the period. They were portrayed by Dorothy Risinger and Don Farley.

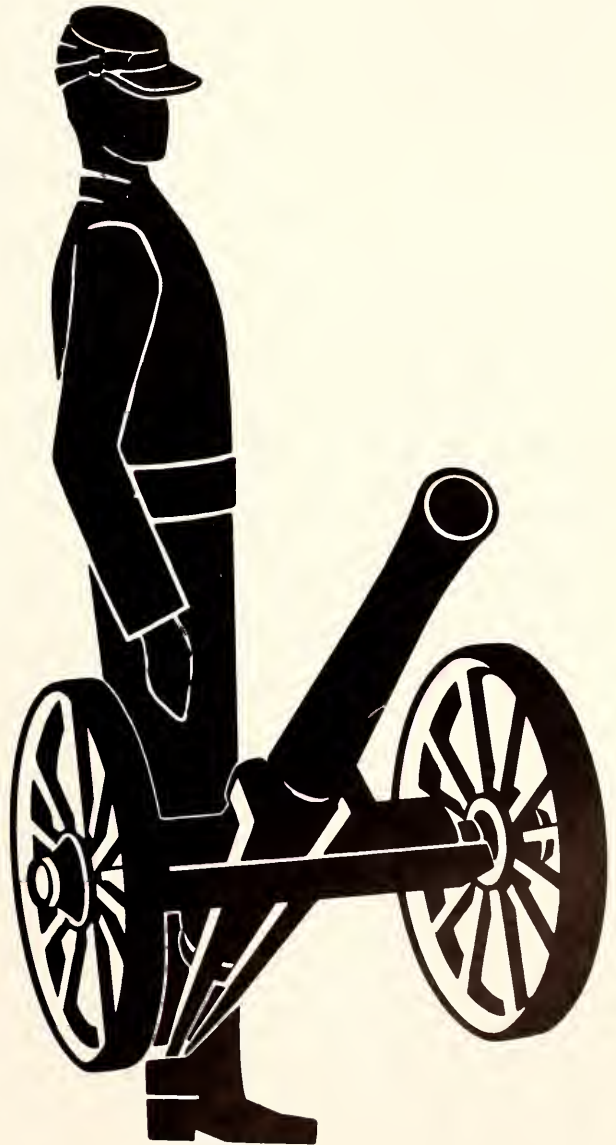

The beautiful plates of Adele Douglas presented on this page, as well as the plates on the previous one, are the work of Iæne Corey, designer both of sets and costumes for the "Rivalry." She has sought to authenticate the designs through the use of formal photographs of Lincoln and Douglas belonging to the collection of Frederick Hill Museum and the Library of Congress. Mrs. Douglas is seen on this page in a six-step-progression of light to dark colors. Her costumes are historically based upon the costume plates of the period, and also on the fact that she was a very striking person, whose presence at the Debates is believed to have had a positive effect upon her husband's election and victory over Lincoln.

1961 brings to a close the R.O.T.C. program at Centenary College. From the time of its organization in 1953, the Department of Military Science and Tactics has contributed actively to campus life. It has afforded many young men the opportunity to serve their country as officers in the United States Army.

HAZING

Students have all gone to war
College and suspended:
God help the right!

A Page from the Faculty Minutes of Centenary College of Louisiana, October 7, 1861.

On October 7, 1861, the Faculty assembled for what under normal conditions would have been the first meeting of the new college session. It was, however, the last meeting for several years; and the following paragraph from the minutes will indicate the reason:

The Faculty met on this morning, there being no college students and few preparatory students, it was resolved on motion that the President call the executive committee as soon as it is convenient.

On the large page opposite the minutes of this meeting, the secretary wrote these words diagonally across the sheet which is clean save for four brief dramatic lines, "Students have all gone to war. College suspended, and God help the right!" Of all circumstances connected with the colorful history of Centenary, there is none, of which its friends are so proud as of this expression of a Christian gentleman in those embittered years.*

*Taken from CENTENARY COLLEGE GOES TO WAR IN 1861 by Arthur M. Shaw, Jr., pages 6 and 7.

A HUNDRED YEARS OF CENTENARY

I

A hundred fateful years have passed,
And with them passed a thousand things
That men had dreamed would live and last,
Yet fled away on hurrying wings.
I've seen the Red Man pass away,
And where his wigwam lately stood
The white man's temple stands to-day,
A city for the silent wood.

II

And in that change I've borne a part;
How nobly, let the records tell.
My creed was written in the heart
Of those who bravely fought and fell.
My loyal sons have borne my name
On fields of conflict far and near;
I make no other bid for fame
Than this: they always held me dear.

III

My strength has been in the hearts of men,
Men who have walked in the ways of the great;
Wielders were they of sword and pen,
Builders were they of church and state.
A hundred fateful years have passed,
And yet, in truth, I am not old;
Another hundred like the last
Will leave my story half untold.

IV

I stand for God, for life, and truth,
I face the daybreak, not the dark;
Beneath my banners dauntless youth
Still marches forward toward the mark.
A hundred years stretch out before—
Years full of deeds for those who dare.
I stand beside the open door
And lift my banner in the air.

V

Fall in! The triumphs of the past
Are naught beside the ones to be;
I've nailed the pennon to the mast,
I know no fate but victory.
By God's own grace I've led the field
On many a glorious day;
Youth cannot fail, youth will not yield,
While Centenary leads the way.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Co-Editors take this opportunity to thank the following for cooperating with us while putting this book together:

United Artists Corporation for permitting us to use pictures from "The Horse Soldiers" on the Division pages.

Mrs. Virginia Maxwell and Mrs. Clara Ray Dealsins of McMinnville City High School, McMinnville, Tennessee, for allowing us to use a picture from their school's yearbook on the end sheets of the Yoncopin.

Mr. Ben Kinel of Broadmoor Studio for providing the programs and the rhinestone crown for the "Miss Centenary Pageant."

Mrs. Reed of James Dormitory, Mrs. Hudgings of the Centenary Cafeteria, Mr. Corey of the Playhouse, Mrs. Fannie Lee Nichols, Dean Helen Lineberger, and Dean J. Howard Allen, all of whom gave us great support, help, and guidance while preparing for and producing the "Miss Centenary Pageant."

Miss Martha Condra, Dean of Women at Louisiana Tech; Mrs. Lillian Stovall, Director of Stovall School of Dance; Mr. David Kent, producer of the "Queen Holiday in Dixie" Pageant; Mr. Winston B. Linam, President of K.S.L.A. Television; Mr. Gordan A. May, President of the Journal Printing Company; and Mr. Arthur C. Morgan, Director of the Southwestern Institute of Arts—we are indebted to these ladies and gentlemen for judging the "Miss Centenary Pageant."

Mrs. Alice S. Alben, Head Librarian of the Centenary College Library, for assisting us in research for certain parts of this book.

Mr. George Shorter of Shorter's Studio for having pictures when we needed them even though it was at times inconvenient for him.

The Yoncopin Staff who devoted their time and effort to the making of this book.

The many others, on campus and off, who have made our job easier.
